

Pilot impact on communities

After almost three years of implementation, we use this opportunity to share the results of working toward a clear objective – improving cross-border connectivity. The pilot actions demonstrated that when convenient, well-designed alternatives are offered, citizens are willing to embrace more sustainable ways of travelling.

For how well the introduced solutions were received by the communities, check out the

Roadmaps – challenges, impact, vision and next steps

Our mission was to test activities for improving public transport, engage stakeholders to improve them, and based on it, present sustainable public transport solutions and innovative governance schemes which can be replicated elsewhere.

The summary of these solutions, together with the vision for future improvements can be found in our 6 Roadmaps, one created for each solution/region.
